COPENHAGEN, September 6, 1912. Preparations are being made for an early meeting in Copenhagen of all Norwegian, Swedish and Danish dealers in petroleum to organize for a united campaign against the Standard Oil Company of America. The dealers say that today have been promised both financial and official assistance by their several governments. In speaking of American octopus one large Copenhagen importer said that the contracts which the Standard Oil Company compels dealers to sign are extortionate. "As a consequence," he added, "the
